Subject: Permission letter for conducting a workshop on vermicomposting

Respected Sir,

Department of Botany in collaboration with IQAC, Ranaghat College would like to conduct a workshop on vermicomposting on 13th December, 2022 from 11.00 am to 2.00 pm for the students of this institution. On behalf of this institution, we invite Mr. Tarun Sarkar (Subject Matter Specialist, Department of Agrenomy, Purba Medinipur Krishi Vigyan Kendra, BCKV) to provide his expertise on 'vermicomposting'. This workshop is open to all students, especially with bioscience branch. There will be a registration fee of Rs. 50/- (Fifty Rupees only) for attending the workshop. We also arrange for a refreshment only for registered participants. After the workshop, certificates will be given to those students who attended the workshop. We also request you for financial support of Rs. 15000/- (Rupees fifteen thousand only) to conduct the workshop properly.

We request you to kindly grant the permission and also provide us the required assistance for conducting the said programme.

Thanking you

Yours Sincerely,

B Das

Description of Proceedings:

The workshop started at 11.15 am with the inaugural program attended by the coordinator of IQAC, invited persons, members of teaching and non- teaching staff and students of Botany department and some faculty members from other colleges. Chief guest Dr. Biswajit Ghosh accompanied by Tarun Sarkar and other faculty members of Botany and Zoology Department lit the lamp and the inaugural song was presented in the inaugural program by the students of the department of botany. Dr. Arunodoy Mukherjee, Co-ordinator, IQAC Ranaghat College welcomed the participants and told about the scope and benefits of the workshop on vermicompost and tissue culture.

The 1st session of the workshop commended the elaborate analytical speech of Dr. Tarun Sarkar. He discussed the vermicompost preparation methodology, its application and its benefit on the environment .Also discussed how it can be an alternative profession in future. He delivered his power point presentation through Bengali language so that students can be benefited .After his informative lecture He also demonstrated the whole procedure of vermicompost preparation with the help of some workers behind the science building.

After tiffin break Dr. Biswajit Ghosh delivered a lecture on tissue culture through a PowerPoint presentation. He gave a brief knowledge about redifferentiation and dedifferentiation .He introduced different types of culture such as root culture, shoot culture, somatic embryo culture & anther culture etc. through the original pictures of his tissue culture laboratory. He discussed how the plantlets could be transferred to the agricultural field through different experimental conditions. While delivering his lecture students were very curious as these were new and interesting chapters to them. After the question answering session and distribution of certificates the workshop ended very well.

Outcome:

1. Students of the department of Botany have been motivated to do this kind of vermicompost preparation as this can help to earn money in the future which is eco-friendly.
2. Students learned various techniques, steps and laboratory manuals of tissue culture which is a method of biological research in which fragments of tissue from an animal or plant are transferred to an artificial environment in which they can continue to survive and function.
3. Students have developed a team spirit while working with other fellow students.

Feedback: The feedback of participants of the workshop were quite satisfactory and gave positive feedback. . The participants who came from other colleges felt the workshop to be beneficial to them. The faculty members of Ranaghat College found the workshop informative and inspiring.
